JOURNAL ENTRY.

Now, on this 31st day of October, 1927, the same being one of the judicial days of the Special March, 1927, Term of this Court, comes on for hearing the above cause upon motion of plaintiff for judgment by default, the plaintiff appearing by its attorneys, M. D. Green, Esq., and the defendant, E. F. Pumphrey, having been three times called in open court to appear, except, demur, answer or plead to the petition of plaintiff herein, comes not, nor anyone for his, and thereupon makes default; and thereupon the plaintiff in open court with the assent of the Court, waives a trial by jury and this cause comes on for hearing and trial before the court, and the Court having examined the pleadings and papers on file in the case, and being fully advised in the premises, finds:

That this is an action on a promissory note, a copy of which is attached to plaintiff's petition as Exhibit "A" thereto, and a part thereof, the action being for the recovery of money, and that the defendant has been duly and regularly served with summons in this cause and that the time for defendant to enter his appearance and to except, demur, and or plead to the petition of the plaintiff herein has long since expired and that the defendant has failed to enter his appearance or to except, demur, or answer, or plead to the petition of the plaintiff, and herein wholly makes default; and the court finds that the allegations of the plaintiff's petition are true as therein set forth, and that this is an action to recover principal, interest, and costs of collection, including attorneys fees, provided for in the promissory note executed by the defendant and one R. I. Irons, jointly and severally, on September, 20th 1923, and that there remains unpaid and due the plaintiff thereon the sum of $4,750.00 which said sum has been due the plaintiff since December, 19, 1923, and that demand for payment has been made and said demand refused, and that the amount of the principal, interest and costs of collection, including attorneys fees due thereon, on this date is Seven Thousand One Hundred Six and thirty four hundred ($7,106.34) Dollars.

IT IS THEREFORE, considered, ordered and ad judged by the Court that the plaintiff, Andrew W. Mellon, Director General of Railroads, have an recover of and from the defendant E. F. Pumphrey, the sum of Seven Thousand One Hundred Six and 34/100-($7,106.34) dollars, with interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from this date, until paid, and that the said plaintiff have his costs in this behalf laid out and expended for all of which let execution issue.

Travis as principals and the Southern Surety Company, a corporation as surety, are justly indebted to the plaintiff, United States of America, on the third cause of action in the sum of $3,100.00 as principal and the further sum of $232.50 as interest.

That the defendants, Tuloma Oil Company, a corporation, and D. R. Travis as principals and the Southern Surety Company, a corporation as surety, are justly indebted to the plaintiff, United States of America, on the fourth cause of action in the sum of $1,150.00 as principal and the further sum of $86.25 as interest.

That the defendants, Tuloma Oil Company, a corporation, and D. R. Travis as principals and the Southern Surety Company, a corporation, as surety, are justly indebted to the plaintiff, United States of America, on the fifth cause of action in the sum of $3,050.00 as principal and the further sum of $228.75, as interest.

It is therefore by the court ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that the plaintiff, United States of America, have judgment against and recover from the defendant Tuloma Oil Company, a corporation, as principal, and the Southern Surety Company, a corporation, as surety upon the first, second, third, fourth and fifth causes of action in the total sum of $9,400.00, together with all the costs of this action.
