vs. NO. 9810 Criminal

Max J. Weisband, Defendant.

O R D E R

Now on this 5th day of May, 1941, at Vinita, Oklahoma, this matter coming on for hearing, the United States of America appearing by Whit Y. Mauzy, United States for the Northern District of Oklahoma and Wm. Knight Powers, Assistant United States Attorney in and for said District, and the defendant appearing in person and represe nted by counsel, Eben L. Taylor and Irvine E. Ungerma

The court after hearing the argument of counsel, the sworn testimony of George E. Carver, Special Investigator of the Alcohol Tax Unit, United States of America, the defendant declining to introduce any testimony, and being otherwise fully advised in the premises, finds:

The defendant Max J. Weisband was convicted on December 5, 1940 by this court and on the same date sentenced to serve a term of ten months in jail and pay a fine of $250.00. Thereafter, on December 18, 1940 and during said term, a motion to modifiy said sentence was filed in behalf of the defendant Weisband.

The court further finds that defendant and his counsel represented that said Max J. Weisband was suffering from tuberculosis and that his condition was injurious to fellow prisoners and that defendnt further represented that he would go to some western State to regan his health and that he would not again engage in the liquor business upon his release from custody. And that upon such representations and upon the written promise of the defendant to not again engage in the liquor business, which promise was contained in a ltter addressed to this court under date of May 14, 1941, by the defendant, this court on the 19th day of Maych, 1941, entered an order releasing such defendant from the custody of the Attorney General, and attached such written promise of the defendant heretofore referred to such order, and such order containing the following words, to-wit:

> "And upon written request being made by the defendant for modification of said sentence in order that he may go out west in an attempt to regain his health and upon hiss written promise not to again engage in the liquor business upon his release from custody, and that upon representation of counsel that the fine imposed would be forthwith paid upon the court modifying the sentence heretofore imposed upon the defendant."

The Court further finds from testimony and evidence that said defendant has continuously engaged in the liquor business since his release from custody and that at all tiies while such motion for modific ion of sentence waw pending, he wasinterested and cncerned in the liquor business by the operations of such business being condu ted by his wife and that the defenant has continually engaged in such liquor business and that he had no intentions of ceasing such liquor operations as set out in his letter of March 14, 1941, at that time or at any other time and that said defendant would not leave the State of Oklahoma for some western State to seek to regain his health, and the court fu ther finds that the defenda nt had no such intention to do so at the time of application for such modificaon or at any other time.

The Court further finds that the procurement of such modification was a fraud upon this court and that the same was obtained by fraudulent and untrue representations and that the conditions upon which such order was given never exi sted in truth and intent, and have not been complied with, and that themodification order was entered at the term in which the court is now sitting.

IT IS THEREFORE THE ORDER, JUDGMENT AND DECREE of the Court that the order of modification so fraudulently obtained, be cancelled, set aside and held for naught, and the commitment originally issued on the 5th day of December, 1940, be reinstated and in full force and effect, and that the United States Marshal take the said defendant into custody in conformity with the terms of said commitment.

Exceptions noted and granted.
