

The Court further considering the fact that this Court heard all the evidence in the original trial concerning these defendants and not wishing to promote ^{and continue} any disparity in sentences as to the respective defendants;

The Court hereby denies the Motion of Dorothy Mae Page for Reconsideration or Correction of Sentence, pursuant to Rule 35 of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure. However, the Court is of the opinion that if under all the circumstances herein, the Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit should find that this Court still has the authority at the present time under the Comprehensive Drug Abuse Prevention and Control Act of 1970, the Court would under such circumstances reduce the sentence of Dorothy Mae Page to one year imprisonment and a fine to be based upon her financial worth, which would have to be determined at a later date.

The Court further denies the motion of Woodrow J. Howe for reconsideration or correction of sentence under the provisions of Rule 35, Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure.

Dated this 22nd day of September, 1971.
