ORDER

IT IS THE ORDER of the Court that the following conditions entitled “Special Search and Seizure Condition” and “Special Alcohol Abstinence and Monitoring Condition” shall apply to persons placed on probation or supervised release when deemed reasonable and specifically ordered by the Court based on the nature and circumstances of the offense(s) and/or the defendant’s history and characteristics. Such conditions further the statutory goals of sentencing by affording adequate deterrence to criminal conduct, protecting the public from further crimes of the defendant, and providing defendant with needed correctional treatment in the most effective manner. This general order amends and supersedes general order 08-04, as it pertains to the “Special Search and Seizure Condition.”

The “Special Search and Seizure Condition” shall read as follows:

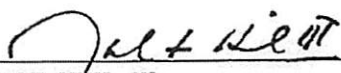

The defendant shall submit his/her person, property, residence, office, vehicle, cellular telephone, computer, or any other electronic communication device, to a search conducted by the United States Probation Officer at a reasonable time and in a reasonable manner, based upon reasonable suspicion of contraband or evidence of a violation of a condition of release. Failure to submit to a search may be grounds for revocation. The defendant shall warn any other residents that the premises may be subject to searches pursuant to this condition.

The “Special Alcohol Abstinence and Monitoring Condition” shall read as follows:

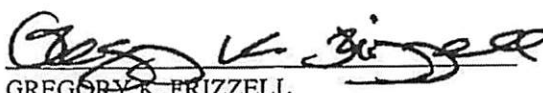

The defendant shall abstain from the use of any form of alcohol or intoxicating beverage. This condition shall include alcohol monitoring unless waived by the probation officer. If an alcohol monitoring device is utilized, defendant shall comply with the monitoring requirements and follow the Probation Officer’s instructions. The costs associated with this service will be incurred by the United States Probation Office. The alcohol detection device may be utilized for up to six months. Should defendant incur a positive alcohol test, an additional monitoring period of up to six months is authorized by the Court.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 29th day of November, 2023.
